

African Bible College MINGOLI

From Malawi in Central Africa, the African Bible College music ensemble, Mingoli will be touring in the United States for the first time in April of 2010. Using a mixture of Western and African instruments and performing African and Western music styles, Mingoli bridges cultural barriers with joyful African exuberance!

Do you want to see firsthand how God is working in Africa? Join us in presenting this ensemble to your church and community. Consider reaching across racial barriers and see the church at work across the globe.
